

Literacy and Young Children

Introduction

Compiled by Chelie Nelson, M.A., CCC-SLP &
Misty Goosen, Ed.S.

January 2002

Kansas Inservice Training System
Kansas University Center on Developmental Disabilities
2601 Gabriel, Parsons, KS 67357
620-421-6550 ext. 1618

Kansas Inservice Training System

Kansas University Center on Developmental Disabilities

2601 Gabriel, Parsons, Kansas 67357

620-421-6550 ext. 1618

January 2002

Dear Colleague,

The positive effect that literacy experiences have on the reading and writing development of young children has been well established. In recent years, attention has been particularly focused on the early literacy needs of all children. In 1998, the National Research Council published a report, Preventing Reading Difficulties in Young Children, which synthesized research findings into guidelines for helping children become successful readers. In their report, Snow, Burns, and Griffin (1998) documented that to prepare children for reading instruction in the early grades, young children (birth through age five) need to be exposed to high quality language and literacy environments. While most young children do not read and write in the conventional sense, they do acquire aspects of literacy knowledge that set the stage for later reading achievement. This packet has been provided to enable you to identify information and strategies related to the literacy needs of young children. Please disseminate as appropriate.

Gathering this information has been a collaborative effort of our staff. We hope that when you have taken the time to review this packet you will find that it contains helpful information. After you have examined the packet, please complete the enclosed evaluation and return it to us at the address provided on the form or complete the evaluation online at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/BLS28J7>

Thank you for your interest and your efforts toward the development of quality services and programs for young children and their families.

Sincerely,

David P. Lindeman, Ph.D.
KITS Director

KITS is supported through Part B, IDEA Funds from the Kansas State Department of Education (Grant # 26004) and Part C, IDEA Funds from the Kansas Department of Health and Environment. The University of Kansas is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and does not discriminate in its programs and activities. Federal and state legislation prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, sex, age, disability, and veteran status. In addition, University policies prohibit discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation, marital status, and parental status.

Feel free to print and/or copy any original materials contained in this packet, with proper citation. KITS has purchased the right to reproduce the copyrighted articles included in this packet. Any additional duplication should adhere to appropriate copyright law. The example organizations, people, places, and events depicted herein are fictitious. No association with any real organization, person, places, or events is intended or should be inferred.

Literacy and Young Children Packet Evaluation

This packet has been developed as a resource to enable you to understand the issues related to young children and emergent literacy. The packet contents were chosen based on your requests and needs assessment results. We would like you to evaluate how helpful this packet has been for you. Please respond to the following questions and return this form to us at the address below.

Please check the parts of the packet that you found most helpful. In the space provided briefly tell us how or why each part was helpful to you.

Articles Resources Activities

Please identify why each part you checked was helpful:

Please check the parts of the packet that you found were not helpful to you. Then in the space provided, briefly tell us how or why each part was of little use to you.

Articles Resources Activities

Please identify what about this part(s) made it of little use:

Please tell us what was not available in the packet that would have been helpful to you.

Please describe how you plan to use the information in this packet.

Other comments or suggestions for future packets:

Thank you for completing this form and returning it to us!
Kansas Inservice Training System
KUCDD-Parsons, 2601 Gabriel, Parsons, KS 67357
620-421-6550 ext. 1618